

CHOCOLATE

Willow Class Year A: Summer Term

A cross curricular topic with a delicious theme!

In English we will read and write: performance poetry, balanced arguments- can chocolate be healthy? Persuasive writing in the form of adverts and Charlie and the Chocolate factory stories and film reviews.

As scientists we will be learning all about reversible and irreversible changes. We will explore how mixtures can be separated through filtration and evaporation. We will also be looking at the effects of sugar on human teeth.

In computing we will be developing our knowledge of word, PowerPoint and publisher. We will be designing packaging and adverts for our new food products and adding hyperlinks and sound to Powerpoint for 'sales pitches'.

In RE we will be learning about Buddhism and Sikhism.

In PHSE, we will look at the areas of 'Relationships' and 'Changing me'.

In PE we will be creating indoor circuits to measure our fitness levels. We will also practising our athletics skills ready for sports day.

In History we will be learning about the Mayans and their role in producing the first chocolate drink. We will look at how the Mayans lived and the empires that they created. We will explore how chocolate came to Europe and the journey it went on.

In Geography we will be using maps to discover where cocoa beans grown and where chocolate is imported from.

As artists we will be exploring Andy Warhol's 'pop art'. We will be looking at examples of his work and other similar artists. We will use a range of techniques to emulate his work, including collage, painting and printing to create our own chocolate packaging.

As designers we are going to produce and package 'Wonka' chocolate treats and healthy 'Wonka' alternatives.

As Musicians we will be looking at the effect of music in advertising. We will be focusing on the Cadbury's adverts, looking at iconic music and the gorilla advert. We will produce our own music for our product's advertising.

In French we will be learning French by understanding new vocabulary, developing pronunciation by speaking in sentences and understanding the grammar used in the different language.
